

Enforcing a Northern Ireland Supreme Court Money Judgment in the United Kingdom

To enforce a money provision contained in the Supreme Court judgment against someone residing in England, you must obtain a Certificate of Money Provision [see Order 71 Rule 33 Supreme Court Rules (NI) 1982].

You (the creditor) may obtain this Certificate by filing at the Supreme Court Front of House, Royal Courts of Justice, Chichester Street, Belfast, the following

- The original decree (or a copy)
- Written evidence (an affidavit) and
- A certificate in Form 64 (see Annex 1)
- Court Fee – you should contact the Royal Courts of Justice, Front of House for an up-to-date fee

The affidavit should contain the following information:

1. Your name and address and that of the debtor (the person who owes the money)
2. The details of the claim that lead to the decree being made
3. The sums payable and unsatisfied under the money provision
4. The rate of interest, if any, applicable and the date or time from which any such interest began to accrue
5. Where application for enforcement of the decree has previously been made to the Enforcement of Judgments Office, a certificate signed by the Chief Enforcement Officer stating the amount remaining unsatisfied
6. Verify that the time for appealing against the decree has expired, or that any appeal brought or application for re-hearing has been finally disposed of and that enforcement of the decree is not stayed

The decree (original or copy), Certificate and affidavit must be produced to the Chief Clerk of the court where the judgment was given. He/she will sign the affidavit and Certificate. The Certificate will be returned to you.

The Certificate and a copy of the judgment must be filed for enforcement in the

1. Action Department of the Central Office of the Supreme Court, Royal Courts of Justice, Strand, London WC2A 2LL (Tel no: 020 7947 6089), or to
2. The Keeper, Registers for Scotland Books of Council and Session, Meadowbank House, 153 London Road, Edinburgh EH8 7AY, Tel: 0131 659 6111 ext 3630

You should contact the relevant office for further advice and procedural information.
